

Final Tribute Paid Mr. Ivan Currie Pioneer Resident of Albert District

On Monday morning, March 28, Mr. Ivan Currie, a long-time and highly respected resident of the Albert district, passed away as the result of a heart attack. Although he had been in rather poor health for the past few years, word of his sudden death came as a distinct shock.

Mr. Currie was born at Springfield, P.E.I., sixty-six years ago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Currie and an elder sister predeceased him.

In his early manhood he spent several years in Boston, U.S.A., working at the carpentering trade. During the first Great War he served overseas with the 236 Co., Canadian Infantry. After demobilization he came to Alberta and took up farming in the Albert district where he had resided since.

In 1922 he married Miss Margaret Stark, a native of Dundee, Scotland. To this union were born three children.

Rev. H. Inglis conducted the funeral service which was held in the Irma United Church. His message, based on the text "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me" was one of comfort and hope. Hymns used were "The Mercy Seat" and "Abide with Me." Mrs. Simmerman sang the solo "In the Presence of God."

Interment was made in the Irma Cemetery. Members of the Irma Branch of the Canadian Legion acted as honorary pallbearers and took part in the grave-side service.

Active pallbearers were Messrs. Erling Larson, Bert Clisdel, and four nephews, Ivan Hardy, Dick McRoberts, Ronald and Keith Currie.

Left to mourn the loss of a kindly and understanding husband, father and brother, are his wife, his daughters, Mrs. Wm. Inglis, Mrs. C. Jones and Mrs. Owen Moore. Three brothers, Gerald, Leigh, David, and one sister, Mrs. McRoberts and eight grandchildren.

WITH THE District Agriculturist

By J. S. Duncan

Gardens and Gardening
Spring is here according to the calendar and it won't be long before there is an interest in gardening. Display of seeds are to be seen all over and many people wonder whether to try to get by with seed left over from last year or whether to buy new seed. Here are three suggestions:

1. Buy new seed each year. Many of the small seeds will have poorer germination this year unless stored under ideal conditions. This means a poorer and weaker lot of plants.
2. Buy varieties suitable for the district and suitable for the use you intend to put them to. Many vegetables are frozen these days and some varieties freeze better than others. The Alberta Horticultural Guide lists the varieties of vegetables and fruit suitable for each district and also indicates which variety freezes or cans best. Pick up a copy of this bulletin at my office if you are in Wainwright, or drop a line asking for one and it will be mailed to you.
3. Don't forget to buy a few flower seeds to brighten up your garden and garden.

Livestock Improvement

There is a lot of truth in the old saying that the sire is half the herd. The cheapest, and one of the quickest ways to improve livestock is to use good sires. If you have been thinking about getting a new bull or boar, it is possible that you could get some assistance under the Alberta Department of Agriculture Livestock Improvement. Policies Anyone interested in these Policies can drop into the office for full information.

Poultry

Last year there were several outbreaks of C.R.D. (Chronic Respiratory Disease) in this area, also a few cases of Newcastle Disease. Poultry raisers should be on the alert to notice any signs of disease in their flocks. Overcrowding, dampness and lack of ventilation are the main causes of disease. Keep your chicks in good surroundings and their disease resistance remains high.

Card of Thanks

To all my good friends and neighbors who remembered me on my 96th birthday with cards, visits and gifts, and especially to Mr. H. Riley for my lovely birthday cake, and to Mrs. A. C. Milne and Pat, who so graciously extended hospitality during the afternoon and evening of my birthday. I wish to extend my most sincere and heartfelt thanks especially to my dear friend who through all her sickness and trouble remembered me. James C. Wood.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors of the Jarrow and Kinella and Irma districts for the wonderful send-off they gave us. Jenny, Bob and Boyd, Clyde, Alberta.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who sent floral tributes, donations to the various memorial funds, cards and messages of sympathy to us during our recent bereavement. Our special thanks to Mr. Inglis for his comforting message and the choir and Mrs. Simmerman, to the members of the Irma Branch of the Canadian Legion, and the Junior W.A. Also to those kind neighbors who helped in the preparations at the cemetery. —Mrs. Ivan Currie, Mina, Ada and Iva. The Currie and McRoberts families.

Digging Saskatchewan history out of soil

REGINA—Patient field workers with modern tools are digging Saskatchewan history out of the soil. From the crumbling ruins of scores of old forts and trading posts relics of the days of the explorers and pioneers are being uncovered.

Archaeologists have occasionally enlisted the aid of the army, with mine detectors, to find and mark the barricaded log structures that were regional headquarters on the march of civilization westward.

The project is part of province-wide observances of Saskatchewan's golden jubilee as a province.

About 200 places of historical significance will be marked before the job is done. No restoration work is planned because of the high cost.

The mine detector was brought into the search for Fort Carlton, built in 1810 by the Hudson's Bay Company on the north branch of the Saskatchewan river about 40 miles southwest of Prince Albert.

The earth had swallowed all trace of the fort. But with the mine detector, army personnel were able to trace the outline of the fort for as much as 100 yards without losing the signal. Rustled nails lying in the soil were the clues.

The mine detector may be used

Modern farm marketing act for Ontario

TORONTO.—Agriculture Minister Thomas said recently in the Ontario Legislature that legislation to be introduced during the current session will result in the most modern farm marketing legislation yet drafted.

Mr. Thomas, the last speaker in the debate on the speech from the throne, said he will discuss in detail the problems in farm marketing during the budget debate.

"There has been some suggestion by the leader of the opposition that the farmers of Ontario were being sold down the river in the matter of the marketing of their products," said Mr. Thomas.

Proposed legislation would provide proof that statement was not true.

Reviewing the agriculture industry for the last year, Mr. Thomas said erratic weather conditions in the eastern part of the province and a drought in the western part resulted in some spoilage. However, the year was fairly satisfactory.

"While gross production of field crops was down from $308,358,000 in 1953 to $290,753,000 in 1954, in many cases, increased farm efficiency helped bridge the gap to some extent."

FLEISCHMANN'S ACTIVE DRY YEAST

ICED HOT CROSS BUNS
Scald 1 1/2 c. milk, 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 1/2 c. salt, 1/2 c. lard. Shortening, stir in 1 c. crisp breakfast-bran cereal and cook to lukewarm. Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water, 2 tps. granulated sugar, stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes. THEN stir well. Add cooled milk mixture and stir in well-beaten eggs. Beat together 4 c. once-sifted bread flour, 3 tps. ground cinnamon, 1 tsp. grated nutmeg. Stir about half of this mixture into yeast mixture; beat until smooth. Mix in 1 c. medium raisins and 1/2 c. chopped almonds. Grease top of dough. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out on lightly-floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Divide into 12 equal-size pieces; knead each piece into a smooth round bun. Place, one each, on small necks of sheets and press each bun with narrow strips of pastry, if desired. Grease tops. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in hot oven, 425°, 18-20 mins. Glaze hot buns by brushing them lightly with corn syrup. Other treatments: Use confectioners' icing for hot cross buns, or spread cooled buns with white icing and make crosses with chocolate icing.

Raleigh high in assists

Don (Bodie) Raleigh, New York Rangers clever center and captain, is one of 10 players in the National Hockey League this season who had 30 or more assists on the morning of March 10. Raleigh's lifetime assist mark with the Rangers rates third among all players who have performed for the Manhattan club since it was formed in 1926. Frank Butcher and Paul Watson, the only other Rangers to have worn sweater No. 7 which is the one Raleigh wears, are ahead of him. On the morning of March 10, Raleigh had a lifetime assists mark of 205. Butcher holds the Rangers record with 261, while Watson is second with 233.

Raleigh also holds the Rangers' record for most assists in one season. His 42 assists in 1951-52 is tops. Don has taken part in 501 league games for the Rangers. Only four players have played more games with the Rangers than he has. They are Ott Heller, 647; Phil Watson, 546; Frank Butcher, 533; and Murray Murdoch, 508.

U.S. testing fastest sub afloat

WASHINGTON.—The United States navy for the first time has been testing an experimental submarine which is believed to be faster for short runs—than any other submersible afloat.

The submarine Albacore, a small 1,300-ton craft with a shape something like an elongated teardrop, may become the pattern for hulls of future nuclear-engined submersibles.

The navy now has the atomic submarine Nautilus in operation and expects to launch a second, the Sea Wolf, next month. Five others are to be built under current appropriations or requests for appropriations.

The submerged speed of the Nautilus is officially reported to be over 20 knots (about 23 miles an hour).

A navy spokesman, in answer to questions, said the Albacore "is faster than the Nautilus for short periods of time, probably the fastest submarine ever built." But the Nautilus "has the fastest sustained speed of any submarine yet built."

Soon exhausted

He meant that the design of the hull of the Albacore makes possible high under-water speed for short periods of time while using propulsion from storage batteries and electric motor. But the battery power is exhausted in relatively short time by this full-power drain.

On the other hand, the Nautilus uses its main, atomic engine when submerged to provide steam for the turbine drive. It can travel at full power on the main engine for days or even weeks.

The Albacore is nearer, to a true fish-like form than most submarines, with all cross-sections and its exterior smooth except for the narrow conning tower. The Albacore, being entirely a test vehicle for hull design, carries no torpedo tubes or other armament.

The third ship of this class, which is expected to be launched toward the end of this year and delivered in the summer of 1956, is to be named Carinthia.

This cupola is 27 1/4 inches high without the weathervane, and is 18 1/2 inches wide at the bottom. It is made in three sections. The base is joined to the roof with angle iron and the birdhouse and roof sections are then added to it. The sides of the birdhouse are hinged for easy cleaning. The pattern gives actual-size cutting guides for the rafters and roofing. The weathervane which is on a separate pattern may be cut out of wood or metal. The cupola pattern shows just how to saw angles to fit any roof and to attach securely without any roof alterations. Work up the patterns by number; 407 for the cupola and 246 for the weathervane. These patterns are 35c each.

This handy piece of utility furniture may be taken down and moved to camp or shore cottage by loosening a few bolts. Another important feature is that when the twins get too grown up for their own good, this goodie goes may be cut apart. Notice that each corner post has a middle heading to match the one on the top. The posts are cut just above this heading and presto you have two sets. Actual-size cutting guides for all shaped parts are given on the pattern. The dimensions are for standard 38-inch twin bed springs. Drive With Care

GARDEN NOTES

Flowers in vegetable garden provide source for bouquets

For bouquets for our own table and for giving to friends, garden authorities urge a special row or two of flowers in the vegetable garden. Given regular cultivation, they will grow vigorously and the blooms can be cut often without marring the beauty of the regular flower garden.

Almost all fair sized flowers will do well under these conditions, and some like gladioli will do well under these conditions, and some like gladioli and sweet peas are best grown here in any case as their foliage is not particularly attractive. It's a good plan to save a little seed in each packet from the regular planting and sow this in one or two long rows in the vegetable garden or along the edges. From this row there will be plenty of bloom for bouquets.

Building good soil
Ideal garden soil is a rich, well drained loam which never bakes or cakes, holds moisture well but is not muddy. Unfortunately few of us are lucky enough to find that right at the door. But so long as we have not pure sand, it is amazing what one can do. The best medicine for any soil, light or heavy, is a liberal application of old fashioned barnyard manure. But manure is hard to come by in these modern days, and it is liable to be filled with weed seeds, and so most of us will have to turn to something else.

Fortunately there are many substitutes, commercial or chemical fertilizers, special soil conditioners, and where the soil is heavy clay, lime where it is sour, and humus anywhere. The latter we can make ourselves. It is simply rotted down vegetable refuse, like leaves, grass clippings, weeds and even clean garbage. This can be dug directly or piled in a corner, covered with layers of earth, watered occasionally and allowed to rot and then dug in.

Try something new
Usually on a special page of the seed catalogue will be listed brand new varieties and novelties. Among these will be the All-America winners for this year. These are new flowers and vegetables that in the North American field trials last year were awarded the most points. A few of these will certainly add color and interest to any border. Last year there was a new violet alyssum and a new petunia, Comanche, that is red and stays that way.

Premier praises Easter Seal campaign
REGINA.—The Easter Seal Campaign sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Saskatchewan and conducted in co-operation with the school teachers and children, was commended by Premier T. C. Douglas.

"By its sixth annual appeal for the sale of Easter Seals, the Rotary Clubs are rendering a humanitarian service to those in our midst who have been victims of crippling disease," he said. Funds derived from this source will help to assure the continuation and expansion of rehabilitation facilities for the physically handicapped, including mobile clinics, the operation of two buses for the transportation of patients and summer camps for the younger people.

Premier Douglas also pointed out that in this Jubilee year, the citizens will want to contribute generously toward building a greater province and a happier, healthier people. This can be done in no better way, he said, than by supporting the Easter Seal Campaign.

The current campaign opened March 21, and will continue, on a province-wide basis, until Sunday, April 10.

Local News

Congratulations are due Mr. H. C. (Ole) Nissen who was persuaded to enter the Old Time Fiddlers contest held in Wainwright on March 30. Ole was given the number 13 but it takes more than that to hoodoo a musician of his status. He played "The Irish Washer Woman" and "Peek A Boo Waltz" with such dash and fire, the audience acclaimed him the winner and awarded him a prize of $20.00. At Irma Ole plays dance music and also proves his versatility by appearing on our local programs as an accomplished concert violinist. His many friends here are most happy to hear of his success in Wainwright.

Senior Citizen Scrolls for Alberta's Pioneers

For their contribution to Alberta's Fifty Golden Years, all pioneers who were in the Province at the time of its establishment in 1905 or before, will be presented with Senior Citizen Scrolls, upon application. Crests on the delicately engraved border of the scroll will depict history motifs of the province, and the scroll will identify the recipient as a Senior Citizen. The name will be hand written on each scroll by an artist.

• Who May Apply:

All persons who have been in residence in the province since the year 1905 or prior, may apply for a Senior Citizen Scroll. A short period of absence does not disqualify you.

• How To Apply:

Application must be made for scrolls. Forms are now available at Municipal Offices in each district or from the Jubilee Committee. Completed application forms are to be sent to the Committee (address below).

CLOSING DATE FOR APPLICATIONS—August 1, 1955

To enable the Jubilee Committee to prepare and distribute the scrolls, your co-operation is requested. Completed applications must be received by August 1, in order that distribution may begin by August 22.

• Distribution Of Scrolls

The majority of scrolls will be mailed from the Jubilee office to the applicant but communities wishing to be responsible for distribution at special presentation ceremonies, even prior to August 22, are requested to prepare a list of eligible citizens and ensure that application forms are submitted well in advance of the date scrolls are required.

• Senior Citizen's Day

A Senior Citizen's Day has been added to the agenda of official dates for the Jubilee Year. September 10th has been set, though communities throughout the province will be holding special Senior Citizen Scroll presentations to coincide with their own Jubilee activities.
